

Ceeds of Peace

Raising peacebuilders at home, in school and in our communities

Developed and facilitated by Dr. Kerrie Urosevich, Executive Director of Family Hui and Dr. Maya Soetoro-Ng, of the UH College of Education

Ceeds of Peace workshops provide a 360° approach to transforming communities by creating safe and thriving homes and schools. Workshops bring together teachers, families and community members to gain skills in supporting children and youth to be leaders in effective peacebuilding. Peacebuilders possess the critical “c”eeds necessary to tackle our communities’ most challenging issues. Critical “c”eeds include: Complex problem solving, Critical thinking, Compassion, Creativity, Collaborative leadership, Courage and Community. Participants learn how to model and plant the Ceeds in their daily lives with children. We hope you will join us.

Fall 2013 Workshop Details:

Saturday August 24th: 9:00-5:00 Honolulu, Location TBD

Saturday September 21st: 9:00-5:00 Honolulu, Location TBD

October 26th, 9:00-5:00 Windward, Oahu, Location TBD

November 30th, 9:00-5:00 Windward, Oahu, Location TBD

April 2014: 9:00-12:00 Implementation Check-In, Location TBD

For more information, please contact Kerrie at kurosevich@familyhui.org or Maya at soetoro@hawaii.edu.

With support from the Omidyar ‘Ohana Fund and in partnership with the University of Hawai‘i College of Education, Family Hui, The Association for Conflict Resolution Hawai‘i Chapter, and the Hawai‘i State Department of Education.